

NCD EX

Pragati ka Solid Exchange

Price Transparency & Dissemination - Farmer Impact

 Kailas Thavare, Maharashtra, mandi rate of turmeric, increased additional income Rs. 36,000/ 18q.

Kailas Thavare, Surpimpri, Parbhani, Maharashtra, 9665982454. Farmer had enquired in January, 2015 for the current and expected future price of turmeric. NCDEX information indicated that present price was Rs. 9,000/q and for the month of May-June it was quoted at Rs. 11,000/q. Farmer was advised to hold the produce. By holding the produce for 5 months he got an additional income of Rs. 36,000 (Rs. 2,000 x 18).

 Ram Singh, Rajasthan, mandi rate of mustard, got increased net income Rs.19, 400/ 20q.

Ram Singh, Kotputli, Jaipur, Rajasthan, 9799015827. Farmer has inquired about mandi rate of mustard and wanted to know the price will increase or not. The farmer was informed that the present mandi rate of mustard is Rs. 3000/q. It was also informed that the price will increase after 10 to 20 days' time and suggested to retain the stock. Expenditure on stock retention Rs. 600. The mandi rate of mustard increased from Rs. 3000/q to Rs. 4000/q within about 15 days. The farmer sold 20q. Increase in income = Rs. 1000 X 20 = Rs.20, 000. Increase in net income = Rs. (20,000 – 600) = Rs.19, 400/ 20q.

 Durga Lal, Rajasthan, mandi rate of gram, got increased net income Rs.19, 500/ 20q.

Durga Lal, Devnagar, Bhilwara, Rajasthan, 8890416807. Farmer has inquired about mandi rate of gram and wanted to know the price will increase or not. The farmer was informed that the present mandi rate of gram is Rs. 3200/q. It was also informed that the price will increase after 2-3 months' time and suggested to retain the stock. Expenditure on stock retention Rs. 500. The mandi rate of gram increased from Rs. 3,200/q to Rs. 4,200/q within about 45 days. The farmer sold 20q. Increase in income = Rs.1, 000 X 20 = Rs.20, 000. Increase in net income = Rs. (20,000 – 500) = Rs.19, 500/ 20q.

 Rameshwar Dhore, Maharashtra, mandi rate of chickpea, increased net income Rs. 5,000/22q.

Rameshwar Dhore, Yevati, Washim, Maharashtra, 9665814885. From voice message he got information about chickpea price of Washim market, which was Rs.250/q higher than local market (per quintal rate was Rs. 4600 at Washim market compared to Rs. 4350 of local market). Expenditure on transportation for 22q chickpea was Rs. 500. He got an additional income = Rs. 250 x 22 = Rs. 5,500/22q. Increase in net income= Rs. (5,500 – 500) = Rs. 5,000/22q.

 Chaman Lal, Rajasthan, mandi rate of soybean, got increased net income Rs.39, 650/ 50q.

Chaman Lal, Pind, Chittorgarh, Rajasthan, 9829154358. Farmer inquired about mandi rate of soybean and wanted to know the price will increase or not. The farmer was informed that the present mandi rate of soybean is Rs. 3200/q. It was also informed that the price will increase after 2-3 months and suggested to retain the stock. Expenditure on stock retention Rs. 350. The mandi rate of soybean increased from Rs. 3,200/q to Rs. 4,000/q within about 15 days. The farmer sold 50q. Increase in income = Rs. 800 X 50 = Rs. 40, 000. Increase in net income = Rs. (40,000 – 350) = Rs.39, 650/ 50q.

 Mahadev, Rajasthan, mandi rate of black gram, got increased net income Rs. 35, 650/ 12q.

Mahadev, Aamaliya, Bhilwara, Rajasthan, 9571562549. Farmer inquired about mandi rate of black gram and wanted to know the price will increase or not. The farmer was informed that the present mandi rate of black gram is Rs. 7,000/q. It was also informed that the price will increase after 2-3 months and suggested to retain the stock. Expenditure on stock retention Rs. 350. The mandi rate of black gram increased from Rs. 7,000/q to Rs. 10,000/q within about 40 days. The farmer sold 12q. Increase in income = Rs. 3,000 X 12 = Rs. 36, 000. Increase in net income = Rs. (36,000 – 350) = Rs.35, 650/ 12q.

Sawar Mal, Rajasthan, mandi rate of mustard, got increased net income Rs. 15,500/ 20q.

Sawar Mal, Rojo ki Dhani, Chomu, Jaipur, Rajasthan, 9799005492. Farmer has inquired about mandi rate of mustard and wanted to know the price will increase or not. The farmer was informed that the present mandi rate of mustard is Rs. 3200/q. It was also informed that the price will increase after 15 to 20 days' time and suggested to retain the stock. Expenditure on stock retention Rs. 500. The mandi rate of mustard increased from Rs. 3200/q to Rs. 4000/q within about 15 days. The farmer sold 20q. Increase in income = Rs.800 X 20 = Rs.16, 000. Increase in net income = Rs. (16,000 – 500) = Rs.15, 500/ 20q.

Narayan Gore, Maharashtra, mandi rate of maize, increased net income Rs. 60,000/ 150q.

Narayan Gore, Waghala, Aurangabad, Maharashtra, 9960432652. Farmer had enquired in October, 2014 for the current and expected future price of maize, NCDEX information indicated that present price was Rs.1100/q and for the month of February and March it was quoted at Rs. 1500/q. Farmer was advised to hold the produce. By holding the produce for 5 months he got an additional income = Rs. 400 x 150 = Rs. 60,000/150q. Thus increased net income= Rs. 60,000/ 150q.

Source: IFFCO Kisan Call Centre